EDRD 5305 Content Reading Instruction
The course focuses on foundations of reading instruction, with emphasis on research and its applications regarding reading and learning from different types of texts through the use of various methods, materials, and programmatic schemes, especially those appropriate for secondary school reading programs. Students pursuing the Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT) must be admitted to and in good standing in the College of Education.
Prerequisites: Graduate standing.
EDRD 5309 Theory & Prac of Early Rdg Dev
The purpose of this course is to provide the student with an in-depth understanding of children's early development in reading and writing. The course will have a field-based component so that students can assess children and design and implement an instructional program integrating the processes of written language. Ongoing assessment will be a key factor of the children's program. Students pursuing the Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT) must be admitted to and in good standing in the College of Education. Prerequisites: Graduate standing.

EDRD 5313 Design, Imp & Eval of Rdg Prog
This course focuses on methods, materials, and organization of reading programs, with emphasis on the scope and sequence of the total reading program from pre-K through 12th grade. Theories, principles, and strategies for designing and implementing developmentally appropriate reading programs will be reviewed and programs will be evaluated to prepare the Reading Professional to make appropriate instructional decisions. Attention will be given to professional development models and professional ethics. Prerequisites: Graduate standing.

EDRD 5319 Adv Diag Reading Difficulties
Students will use formal and informal instruments to diagnose reading problems. Students will review a variety of case studies and develop their own case study throughout the semester as they monitor and assess students with reading difficulties. This course may be taken as a core course by individuals pursuing the Master Reading Teacher (MRT) Certificate. Students pursuing the Master of Arts in Teaching (MAT) must be admitted to and in good standing in the College of Education. Practicum and Field Hours are required. Prerequisites: EDRD 5319.

EDRD 5321 Prac in Diagnosis & Rem of Rdg
Students will work closely with Reading Faculty in the administration of diagnostic assessment instruments and procedures. Students will plan and carry out remedial programs and interventions for struggling readers through field classroom based experiences. Practicum portfolio and supervised field based experiences required. Prerequisites: EDRD 5319.

EDRD 5323 Individualized Instr in Rdg
Teaching strategies for individualizing instruction in reading to provide for the effective use of teacher-made and commercially prepared materials, with attention to the diverse needs of children, are explored. Special emphasis will be given to application of whole language philosophy in reading instruction, student-centered instruction, and authentic assessment techniques. Prerequisites: EDRD 5313 and EDRD 5319.

EDRD 5324 Professional Preparation Sem
Graduate students will engage in and successfully complete a series of On-line Modules in preparation for the Master Reading Teacher Certification State Exam or/and Reading Specialist Certification State Exam. Graduate students will complete practicum Field Clock Hours and will engage in Leadership practices as required involving curriculum and assessment of literacy practices. Prerequisites: EDRD 5321.

EDRD 5399 Special Issues in Reading
Course examines timely topics of concern to educators involved in making decisions regarding reading. May be repeated once when topic changes. Prerequisites: Graduate standing and permission of instructor.

EDRD 6301 Teach RDG to Ling Div Pops
This course will examine research and theories relating to the cognitive, affective, social, cultural, and linguistic factors influencing the literacy teaching and learning of linguistically diverse populations. Prerequisites: Doctoral standing.

EDRD 6303 Curr Trends & Iss in Lit/Bilit
Recent research and development in theories and practices in the field of literacy and biliteracy will be explored and analyzed, as well as critical issues, including current policy and best instructional practice, using findings from psycholinguistic, sociolinguistic and multicultural research on the influence of social, cultural, political, and psycholinguistic factors that affect the development of literacy and biliteracy. Prerequisites: Doctoral standing.

EDRD 6305 Res on Assessment & Diag R&W
Current research on assessment and diagnosis of reading and writing will be explored and analyzed to identify significant trends and issues in the field. New research hypotheses will be generated. Guidelines for improving current practice in the field of reading assessment and diagnosis will be developed. Program. Prerequisites: Doctoral classification.

EDRD 6307 Theoretical Foundations of Rdg
Seminars for doctoral students to study and critique major theoretical models and processes of reading. Special emphasis will be given to cognitive, constructivist, and socio-linguistic theories. Psychological, linguistic and physical factors related to reading performance will be explored and special attention will be given to consideration of implications for teaching reading across the grades and across the curriculum. Theoretical models of reading, including developmental, interactive-transactional, and affective models, will be reviewed, with an end to the generation of new research hypotheses and the development of paradigms for improving reading instruction of diverse populations. Prerequisites: Doctoral classification.
