Additional Course Information

Course Description: Sub-Title: Yoga for Dancers. This course will introduce students to the practice of Yoga Asana (yoga poses) and how it can be utilized as a cross-training and conditioning method to augment their dance studies. Students will be guided through various sequences of yoga where they will learn the proper foundation, alignment, and anatomical focus of each pose and how they can enhance and further clarify the students' dance skills. Through a regular movement practice, class discussions, and homework assignments, each student will learn the fundamentals of Yoga Asana and how to effectively apply it to their dance practice.

Course Delivery: This course is taught exclusively in-person. Attendance is mandatory.

INFORMATION FROM THE INSTRUCTOR:

Attire: You must arrive to class dressed to move. This means NO STREET CLOTHES. Those who do not arrive in the proper attire will not be allowed to participate and may be asked to observe class. Examples of proper attire are: Clothing that permits a freedom of bodily movement. (I.E. Any kind of exercise/active wear-sweat pants, tights, gym pants/shorts, tank tops, tee-shirts, etc., etc.) NO JEANS UNDER ANY CIRCUMSTANCES.

It is highly recommended to wear pants instead of shorts, as we will often work close to the floor. Students needing to change into the proper clothes must do so before class begins. Any questions about attire should be addressed to me.

Foot wear. You must practice barefoot. Any questions about this should be directed to me.

Mats: We will practice on yoga mats as much as possible. I will provide a limited amount of mats, but If you have your own please bring it to class. Though not required, it is best to practice yoga on a yoga mat.

Props: Props, such as soft blocks or blankets will be offered to students througout the course, to assist, as needed, in embodying each pose or movement. If you are instructed to use a prop, please use it, as it will help you better execute the movement. If you have your own yoga props that you like to use, please bring them to class.

Attendance: As with any dance class, attendance is absolutely crucial to successful completion of the course. Therefore, it is expected that you attend every class. Your presence in class matters. In participatory classes such as these, the dynamic of the course changes when an individual is absent; especially when the class is already small. Because of this, there are no excused absences. Any absence will result in five (5) points being deducted off of your final participation grade unless you are absent for one of the following reasons. Proof may be required to avoid losing points:

- *Testing positive for COVID-19
- *Participation in an authorized University activity.
- *Death or major illness in a student's immediate family or partner
- *Illness of a dependent family member or partner.
- *Participation in legal proceedings or administrative procedures that require
- student's presence
- *Religious holiday
- *Required participation in military duties.
- *Mandatory admission interviews for professional or graduate school which
- cannot be rescheduled.
- *Severe physical or mental health concerns.

Additionally, in order to have any absence excused, you must contact me either by email or by phone within 24 hours of your absence to let me know you will not be attending. If you do not alert me within this window, you will lose points as noted above. Just like you would alert your supervisor at your job, please show me the same courtesy and professionalism if you must miss class.

Though I will take attendance each day, you are responsible for keeping track of your absences. You are also required to make up any homework assignments you miss by the next scheduled class in order to receive full credit for them. If you anticipate missing many classes, please contact me so we can discuss the best way for you to proceed in the course. Lastly, all absences will be judged on a case-by-case basis. In general, as long as your absences are kept to a minimum and are for legitimate reasons (as noted above), they will be excused. However, excessive absences will not be tolerated and will hurt your grade. Please do your best to attend every class meeting.

Tardiness: Excessive lateness to class will not be tolerated. Consistent lateness is both poor etiquette and a potential safety concern in a dance class. Students who arrive more than 5 minutes late to class may be asked to observe instead of actively participate. This should be kept to an absolute minimum. Additionally, every 5 tardies will count as one absence unless your tardiness has been excused. If you arrive after attendance is taken, you must check in with the me at the end of class to make sure you are marked present. Please be on time for class.

Leaving Early: Students who leave class early will be given an absence unless they have been excused before class, or a personal emergency arises that requires you to leave class.

General Conduct and Etiquette: It is important that the entire class time be devoted to the movement practice and learning about the subject matter. Therefore, please refrain from using any kind of electronic device or other materials during class, and make sure that they are silenced or turned off completely. Do not keep any electronic devices in your pocket or on your person during class. This includes Apple watches and their equivalents.

Throughout the course, I will give you constructive feedback to help you build your skills. This feedback may be given to the entire group or to individuals. Regardless of who it is being given to, please be attentive during this time and do not engage in personal conversations. Even if feedback is not given directly to you, you can still benefit from hearing it.

Sitting out/Injuries: Sitting out during class is not allowed. The only exception is if you are physically injured and not able to actively participate or have been asked to observe for other reasons already stated. If you are injured, please let me know at the beginning of class. Injured and observing students will participate by watching and taking written notes on the material we are covering that day. Notes must be turned into me at the end of class. If you absolutely must leave the studio during class for any reason, please make sure you do so quickly and quietly, and return to class as soon as possible. Excessive leaving will hurt your participation grade.

Modifications: Pain is NOT gain. It is my goal to make sure you have the best experience possible in this course and that you build your skills as dancers and thinkers. Therefore, if at any time an idea I ask you to explore causes you pain, please let me know immediately so I can help you modify the material. You will of course be sore after class from time to time. This is normal, but there is a big difference between soreness from rigor and pain. We want rigor, we don't want pain. Please take care of yourselves and tell me if something is causing you pain.

Restroom use: If you need the restroom, please do your best to use it before class begins. If you leave in the middle of class you will miss important material while you are gone. If you must use the restroom after class begins do not ask my permission to do so. Simply excuse yourself and return as soon as possible. We are all adults.

Fragrances: Since this is a physically engaged course, there is a greater need to breath fresh air than there would be in a traditional lecture course. Therefore, please do not apply strong perfumes, colognes, or body sprays in the studio, as the odors can linger in the space. Also, remember that some of your peers may have sensitivities to strong smells. If you use any fragrances please do so minimally and make sure you apply them outside of the studio before you enter.

Studio Class Energy: All dance courses require physical energy and presence. You will get the most out of the course if you show up each time ready to challenge your physicality. Please do your best to meet each exercise with briskness and curiosity. If you are not feeling 100% on a particular day but still able to dance, please let me know at the beginning of class that you will be working at a different pace for that day. This should be kept to a minimum however.

Hands-On Assists: Hands-on instruction is a fundamental part of many kinds of movement instruction, including Yoga. I will sometimes offer a handson assist to help you find the appropriate alignment or flow of energy in a particular movement. I will always ask your permission before I put my hands on you. If you would prefer only verbal instructions, please let me know at the time I offer you an assist.

Communicating with the instructor. If you have any questions or concerns about the course outside of class time, please email or call me. I am here to support you! In most cases I will respond to an email within 24 hours, but it may take up to 48 hours, depending on the day or week. Please be patient. The best time to reach me by phone is during my normal office hours. You may visit me in my office either in-person or virtually via Zoom. If you would like to visit me virtually, please call my office during my office hours and I will open a Zoom room for us. Again, my office is FPA 130-A in the Fine and Performing Arts building.

NOTE: I will NOT respond to emails on the weekends. Unless it is the weekend of the TAMIU Dance Concert, emails sent to me after 5pm on Friday will be returned by 5pm on the following Monday.

Concert Attendance: You are required to attend TAMIU's annual Fall Dance Concert to support your fellow dance students. The date of the concert is Friday November 21st in the University Theater at 7:30pm. More information on this will be given as the concert gets closer. You will have a homework assignment associated with the concert.

Homework Assignments: You will occasionally be given a short homework assignment which will be either written or movement-based. These assignments will be given in class as well as posted to Blackboard. If you are absent on a day an assignment is given, it is your responsibility to get the assignment and make it up.

Al Policy: In general, the use of AI is not allowed in the course. If you need assistance writing your papers, you should reach out to me for extra help or contact the TAMIU writing center. The only exceptions to this policy are things like Grammarly or online translation tools you may want to use if you choose to draft your papers in a language other than English. These are fine to use, but please be cautious when you use them. For example, if you use Grammarly, or something like it, avoid putting entire paragraphs into the program to correct. Instead, use it sentence by sentence, as you feel it is needed. Remember that your papers MUST be written by you and only you and your ideas need to be your own. The use of ChatGPT, or its equivalents, are prohibited in the course. Students who are found to have used it for an assignment will be given a 0 and reported to the university for plagiarism. If you have any questions about the use of AI in the course, please reach out to me directly.

Final Project: The final for this course be a yoga sequence that you create based on the material we cover throughout the semester. It will be presented in class during finals week. Please check the course calendar for the due date(s). A handout will be posted to Blackboard later in the semester with further details.

Final Grade Breakdown:

Participation: 45%

Skill Assessment/Effort: 20%

Homework Assignments: 15%

Final Project: 20%

Participation: Participation counts as 45% of your final grade. You must give your best effort to each class meeting. The participation grade is calculated based on the following criteria

- * On-time attendance for all classes
- *Being open to and applying constructive feedback
- *Adhering to the policies of the class
- *Being respectful and kind to all students and to the instructor at all times

Skill Assessment/Effort: The effort you put into the course along with your level of skill proficiency is worth 20% of your final grade. This grade is calculated based on the following criteria

- *Showing improvement of skills at each class meeting
- *Demonstrating technical proficiently in the yoga poses covered throughout the semester.

American College Dance Association (ACDA): Every year in March, dance students have the opportunity to attend the American College Dance Association (ACDA). This is a national collegiate dance conference that takes place in different regions throughout the United States. Our region is the South Central region and it covers institutions throughout Texas as well as those in Northeastern New Mexico and Western Louisiana. The TAMIU dance program attends every year and presents either a faculty or student choreographed work in an adjudicated or informal concert format. This is a wonderful opportunity for you to perform, attend performances, and take master classes with other college dance faculty from our region. Our next ACDA will take place at the University of North Texas in Denton, TX March 8-11th, 2026. More information about it can be found via this link: https:// web.cvent.com/event/F2910A3E-9732-4E97-ADD6-B3B44D2130B8/summary

I strongly recommend you all to attend with us, even if you are not performing. You will grow tremendously as dancers at this conference and also get to meet and connect with other dance students and faculty with whom you may develop lifelong personal or professional relationships. More information on ACDA will be forthcoming. Your student travel funds will cover the cost of your conference registration, lodging and travel, provided you have not already used up those funds. The registration deadline for ACDA is approaching so if you want to attend, you must tell me no later than October 1st, 2025. Put this date on your calendars!

University/College Policies

Please see the University Policies below.

COVID-19 Related Policies

If you have tested positive for COVID-19, please refer to the Student Handbook, Appendix A (Attendance Rule) for instructions.

Required Class Attendance

Students are expected to attend every class in person (or virtually, if the class is online) and to complete all assignments. If you cannot attend class, it is your responsibility to communicate absences with your professors. The faculty member will decide if your excuse is valid and thus may provide lecture materials of the class. According to University policy, acceptable reasons for an absence, which cannot affect a student's grade, include:

- · Participation in an authorized University activity.
- · Death or major illness in a student's immediate family.
- · Illness of a dependent family member.
- · Participation in legal proceedings or administrative procedures that require a student's presence.
- · Religious holy day.
- · Illness that is too severe or contagious for the student to attend class.

- · Required participation in military duties.
- · Mandatory admission interviews for professional or graduate school which cannot be rescheduled.

Students are responsible for providing satisfactory evidence to faculty members within seven calendar days of their absence and return to class. They must substantiate the reason for the absence. If the absence is excused, faculty members must either provide students with the opportunity to make up the exam or other work missed, or provide a satisfactory alternative to complete the exam or other work missed within 30 calendar days from the date of absence. Students who miss class due to a University-sponsored activity are responsible for identifying their absences to their instructors with as much advance notice as possible.

Classroom Behavior (applies to online or Face-to-Face Classes)

TAMIU encourages classroom discussion and academic debate as an essential intellectual activity. It is essential that students learn to express and defend their beliefs, but it is also essential that they learn to listen and respond respectfully to others whose beliefs they may not share. The University will always tolerate different, unorthodox, and unpopular points of view, but it will not tolerate condescending or insulting remarks. When students verbally abuse or ridicule and intimidate others whose views they do not agree with, they subvert the free exchange of ideas that should characterize a university classroom. If their actions are deemed by the professor to be disruptive, they will be subject to appropriate disciplinary action (please refer to Student Handbook Article 4).

TAMIU Honor Code: Plagiarism and Cheating

As a TAMIU student, you are bound by the TAMIU Honor Code to conduct yourself ethically in all your activities as a TAMIU student and to report violations of the Honor Code. Please read carefully the Student Handbook Article 7 and Article 10 available at https://www.tamiu.edu/scce/ studenthandbook.shtml (https://www.tamiu.edu/scce/studenthandbook.shtml/).

We are committed to strict enforcement of the Honor Code. Violations of the Honor Code tend to involve claiming work that is not one's own, most commonly plagiarism in written assignments and any form of cheating on exams and other types of assignments.

Plagiarism is the presentation of someone else's work as your own. It occurs when you:

- 1. Borrow someone else's facts, ideas, or opinions and put them entirely in your own words. You must acknowledge that these thoughts are not your own by immediately citing the source in your paper. Failure to do this is plagiarism.
- 2. Borrow someone else's words (short phrases, clauses, or sentences), you must enclose the copied words in quotation marks as well as citing the source. Failure to do this is plagiarism.
- 3. Present someone else's paper or exam (stolen, borrowed, or bought) as your own. You have committed a clearly intentional form of intellectual theft and have put your academic future in jeopardy. This is the worst form of plagiarism.

Here is another explanation from the 2020, seventh edition of the Manual of The American Psychological Association (APA):

"Plagiarism is the act of presenting the words, idea, or images of another as your own; it denies authors or creators of content the credit they are due. Whether deliberate or unintentional, plagiarism violates ethical standards in scholarship" (p. 254). This same principle applies to the illicit use of AI.

Plagiarism: Researchers do not claim the words and ideas of another as their own; they give credit where credit is due. Quotations marks should be used to indicate the exact words of another. Each time you paraphrase another author (i.e., summarize a passage or rearrange the order of a sentence and change some of the words), you need to credit the source in the text. The key element of this principle is that authors do not present the work of another as if it were their own words. This can extend to ideas as well as written words. If authors model a study after one done by someone else, the originating author should be given credit. If the rationale for a study was suggested in the discussion section of someone else's article, the person should be given credit. Given the free exchange of ideas, which is very important for the health of intellectual discourse, authors may not know where an idea for a study originated. If authors do know, however, they should acknowledge the source; this includes personal communications (p. 11). For guidance on proper documentation, consult the Academic Success Center or a recommended guide to documentation and research such as the Manual of the APA or the MLA Handbook for Writers of Research Papers. If you still have doubts concerning proper documentation, seek advice from your instructor prior to submitting a final draft.

TAMIU has penalties for plagiarism and cheating.

- · Penalties for Plagiarism: Should a faculty member discover that a student has committed plagiarism, the student should receive a grade of 'F' in that course and the matter will be referred to the Honor Council for possible disciplinary action. The faculty member, however, may elect to give freshmen and sophomore students a "zero" for the assignment and to allow them to revise the assignment up to a grade of "F" (50%) if they believe that the student plagiarized out of ignorance or carelessness and not out of an attempt to deceive in order to earn an unmerited grade; the instructor must still report the offense to the Honor Council. This option should not be available to juniors, seniors, or graduate students, who cannot reasonably claim ignorance of documentation rules as an excuse. For repeat offenders in undergraduate courses or for an offender in any graduate course, the penalty for plagiarism is likely to include suspension or expulsion from the university.
  - · Caution: Be very careful what you upload to Turnitin or send to your professor for evaluation. Whatever you upload for evaluation will be considered your final, approved draft. If it is plagiarized, you will be held responsible. The excuse that "it was only a draft" will not be accepted.

- · Caution: Also, do not share your electronic files with others. If you do, you are responsible for the possible consequences. If another student takes your file of a paper and changes the name to his or her name and submits it and you also submit the paper, we will hold both of you responsible for plagiarism. It is impossible for us to know with certainty who wrote the paper and who stole it. And, of course, we cannot know if there was collusion between you and the other student in the matter.
- · Penalties for Cheating: Should a faculty member discover a student cheating on an exam or quiz or other class project, the student should receive a "zero" for the assignment and not be allowed to make the assignment up. The incident should be reported to the chair of the department and to the Honor Council. If the cheating is extensive, however, or if the assignment constitutes a major grade for the course (e.g., a final exam), or if the student has cheated in the past, the student should receive an "F" in the course, and the matter should be referred to the Honor Council. Additional penalties, including suspension or expulsion from the university may be imposed. Under no circumstances should a student who deserves an "F" in the course be allowed to withdraw from the course with a "W."
  - Caution: Chat groups that start off as "study groups" can easily devolve into "cheating groups." Be very careful not to join or remain any chat group if it begins to discuss specific information about exams or assignments that are meant to require individual work. If you are a member of such a group and it begins to cheat, you will be held responsible along with all the other members of the group. The TAMIU Honor Code requires that you report any such instances of cheating.
- Student Right of Appeal: Faculty will notify students immediately via the student's TAMIU e- mail account that they have submitted plagiarized work. Students have the right to appeal a faculty member's charge of academic dishonesty by notifying the TAMIU Honor Council of their intent to appeal as long as the notification of appeal comes within 10 business days of the faculty member's e-mail message to the student and/or the Office of Student Conduct and Community Engagement. The Student Handbook provides more details.

Use of Work in Two or More Courses

You may not submit work completed in one course for a grade in a second course unless you receive explicit permission to do so by the instructor of the second course. In general, you should get credit for a work product only once.

Al Policies

Your instructor will provide you with their personal policy on the use of AI in the classroom setting and associated coursework.

TAMIU E-Mail and SafeZone

Personal Announcements sent to students through TAMIU E-mail (tamiu.edu or dusty email) are the official means of communicating course and university business with students and faculty -not the U.S. Mail and no other e-mail addresses. Students and faculty must check their TAMIU e-mail accounts regularly, if not daily. Not having seen an important TAMIU e-mail or message from a faculty member, chair, or dean is not accepted as an excuse for failure to take important action.

Students, faculty, and staff are encouraged to download the SafeZone app, which is a free mobile app for all University faculty, staff, and students. SafeZone allows you to: report safety concerns (24/7), get connected with mental health professionals, activate location sharing with authorities, and anonymously report incidents. Go to https://www.tamiu.edu/adminis/police/safezone/index.shtml for more information.

Copyright Restrictions

The Copyright Act of 1976 grants to copyright owners the exclusive right to reproduce their works and distribute copies of their work. Works that receive copyright protection include published works such as a textbook. Copying a textbook without permission from the owner of the copyright may constitute copyright infringement. Civil and criminal penalties may be assessed for copyright infringement. Civil penalties include damages up to $100,000; criminal penalties include a fine up to $250,000 and imprisonment. Copyright laws do not allow students and professors to make photocopies of copyrighted materials, but you may copy a limited portion of a work, such as article from a journal or a chapter from a book for your own personal academic use or, in the case of a professor, for personal, limited classroom use. In general, the extent of your copying should not suggest that the purpose or the effect of your copying is to avoid paying for the materials. And, of course, you may not sell these copies for a profit. Thus, students who copy textbooks to avoid buying them or professors who provide photocopies of textbooks to enable students to save money are violating the law.

Students with Disabilities

Texas A&M International University seeks to provide reasonable accommodations for all qualified persons with disabilities. This University will adhere to all applicable federal, state, and local laws, regulations and guidelines with respect to providing reasonable accommodations as required to afford egual education opportunity. It is the student's responsibility to register with the Office of Student Counseling and Disability Services located in Student Center 126. This office will contact the faculty member to recommend specific, reasonable accommodations. Faculty are prohibited from making accommodations based solely on communications from students. They may make accommodations only when provided documentation by the Student Counseling and Disability Services office.

Student Attendance and Leave of Absence (LOA) Policy

As part of our efforts to assist and encourage all students towards graduation, TAMIU provides LOA's for students, including pregnant/parenting students, in accordance with the Attendance Rule (Section 3.07) and the Student LOA Rule (Section 3.08), which includes the "Leave of Absence Request" form. Both rules can be found in the TAMIU Student Handbook (URL: http://www.tamiu.edu/ studentaffairs/StudentHandbook1.shtml (http://www.tamiu.edu/studentaffairs/StudentHandbook1.shtml/)).

Pregnant and Parenting Students

Under Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, harassment based on sex, including harassment because of pregnancy or related conditions, is prohibited. A pregnant/parenting student must be granted an absence for as long as the student's physician deems the absence medically necessary. It is a violation of Title IX to ask for documentation relative to the pregnant/parenting student's status beyond what would be required for other medical conditions. If a student would like to file a complaint for discrimination due to his or her pregnant/parenting status, please contact the TAMIU Title IX Coordinator (Lorissa M. Cortez, 5201 University Boulevard, KLM 159B, Laredo, TX 78041, TitleIX@tamiu.edu, 956.326.2857) and/or the Office of Civil Rights (Dallas Office, U.S. Department of Education, 1999 Bryan Street, Suite 1620, Dallas, TX 75201-6810, 214.661.9600). You can also report it on TAMIU's anonymous electronic reporting site: https://www.tamiu.edu/reportit (https://www.tamiu.edu/reportit/).

TAMIU advises a pregnant/parenting student to notify their professor once the student is aware that accommodations for such will be necessary. It is recommended that the student and professor develop a reasonable plan for the student's completion of missed coursework or assignments. The Office of Equal Opportunity and Diversity (Lorissa M. Cortez, Iorissam.cortez@tamiu.edu) can assist the student and professor in working out the reasonable accommodations. For other questions or concerns regarding Title IX compliance related to pregnant/parenting students at the University, contact the Title IX Coordinator. In the event that a student will need a leave of absence for a substantial period of time, TAMIU urges the student to consider a Leave of Absence (LOA) as outlined in the TAMIU Student Handbook. As part of our efforts to assist and encourage all students towards graduation, TAMIU provides LOA's for students, including pregnant/parenting students, in accordance with the Attendance Rule and the Student LOA Rule. Both rules can be found in the TAMIU Student Handbook (https://www.tamiu.edu/scce/studenthandbook.shtml (https://www.tamiu.edu/scce/studenth studenthandbook.shtml/)).

Anti-Discrimination/Title IX

TAMIU does not discriminate or permit harassment against any individual on the basis of race, color, sex, religion, national origin, age, disability, genetic information, veteran status, educational programs, or employment. If you would like to file a complaint relative to Title IX or any civil rights violation, please contact the TAMIU Director of Equal Opportunity and Diversity/Title IX Coordinator, Lorissa M. Cortez, 5201 University Boulevard, Killam Library 159B, Laredo, TX 78041, TitleIX@tamiu.edu, 956.326.2857, via the anonymous electronic reporting website, ReportIt, at https:// www.tamiu.edu/reportit (https://www.tamiu.edu/reportit/), and/or the Office of Civil Rights (Dallas Office), U.S. Department of Education, 1999 Bryan Street, Suite 1620, Dallas, TX 75201-6810, 214.661.9600.

Incompletes

Students who are unable to complete a course should withdraw from the course before the final date for withdrawal and receive a "W." To qualify for an "incomplete" and thus have the opportunity to complete the course at a later date, a student must meet the following criteria:

- 1. The student must have completed 90% of the course work assigned before the final date for withdrawing from a course with a "W", and the student must be passing the course;
- 2. The student cannot complete the course because an accident, an illness, or a traumatic personal or family event occurred after the final date for withdrawal from a course;
- 3. The student must sign an "Incomplete Grade Contract" and secure signatures of approval from the professor and the college dean.
- 4. The student must agree to complete the missing course work before the end of the next long semester; failure to meet this deadline will cause the "I" to automatically be converted to an "F"; extensions to this deadline may be granted by the dean of the college. This is the general policy regarding the circumstances under which an "incomplete" may be granted, but under exceptional circumstances, a student may receive an incomplete who does not meet all of the criteria above if the faculty member, department chair, and dean recommend it.

WIN Contracts

The Department of Biology and Chemistry does not permit WIN contracts. For other departments within the college, WIN Contracts are offered only under exceptional circumstances and are limited to graduating seniors. Only courses offered by full-time TAMIU faculty or TAMIU instructors are eligible to be contracted for the WIN requirement. However, a WIN contract for a course taught by an adjunct may be approved, with special permission from the department chair and dean. Students must seek approval before beginning any work for the WIN Contract. No student will contract more than one course per semester. Summer WIN Contracts must continue through both summer sessions.

Student Responsibility for Dropping a Course

It is the responsibility of the student to drop the course before the final date for withdrawal from a course. Faculty members, in fact, may not drop a student from a course without getting the approval of their department chair and dean.

Independent Study Course

Independent Study (IS) courses are offered only under exceptional circumstances. Required courses intended to build academic skills may not be taken as IS (e.g., clinical supervision and internships). No student will take more than one IS course per semester. Moreover, IS courses are limited to seniors and graduate students. Summer IS course must continue through both summer sessions.

Grade Changes & Appeals

Faculty are authorized to change final grades only when they have committed a computational error or an error in recording a grade, and they must receive the approval of their department chairs and the dean to change the grade. As part of that approval, they must attach a detailed explanation of the reason for the mistake. Only in rare cases would another reason be entertained as legitimate for a grade change. A student who is unhappy with his or her grade on an assignment must discuss the situation with the faculty member teaching the course. If students believe that they have been graded unfairly, they have the right to appeal the grade using a grade appeal process in the Student Handbook and in the Faculty Handbook.

Final Examination

All courses in all colleges must include a comprehensive exam or performance and be given on the date and time specified by the Academic Calendar and the Final Exam schedule published by the Registrar's Office. In the College of Arts & Sciences all final exams must contain a written component. The written component should comprise at least 20% of the final exam grade. Exceptions to this policy must receive the approval of the department chair and the dean at the beginning of the semester.
